

The User Needs

App that connects people via similar gaming interests/favoriting gaming: the ability to want to find others with shared gaming preferences.

James Lyles

App that connects to Apple/Google Maps and shows possible shortcuts across traffic: helps in helping whoever uses the website/app to save time by avoiding traffic.

James Lyles

Something that shows up-to-date gas prices and which station is best based on the user's car/year/model: helps finding the best gas prices for their vehicle, considering efficiency.

James Lyles

App that could show possible cooking recipes using ingredients provided by the user: solves the need help figuring out meals based on given ingredients

James Lyles

Challenges / What Could Go Wrong?

App that connects people via similar gaming interests/favoriting gaming: The risk would be matching people who has two very different gaming preferences or indirectly creating toxic communites

James Lyles

App that connects to Apple/Google Maps and shows possible shortcuts across traffic: Since its connected to another system could run the possibly to give inaccurate or even outdated traffic info so this would cause a even worse delay

James Lyles

Something that shows up-to-date gas prices and which station is best based on the user's car/year/model: Just like the shortcut idea this could lead to giving inaccurate gas prices or chances that give wrong vehicle-specific fueling efficiency .

James Lyles

App that could show possible cooking recipes using ingredients provided by the user: Could give out an unappetizing meal or even an incomplete meal leaving the user to waste both time and food

James Lyles

Solutions / How Do We Solve the Problem?

App that connects people via similar gaming interests/favoriting gaming: Take a page out of Xbox book and incorporate user reviews and preference ratings for better matches

James Lyles

App that connects to Apple/Google Maps and shows possible shortcuts across traffic: Try partnering with real-time traffic data providers or finding an open source coding that could do that

James Lyles

Something that shows up-to-date gas prices and which station is best based on the user's car/year/model: just continuously update gas station pricing data and allow users to manually update prices if needed.

James Lyles

App that could show possible cooking recipes using ingredients provided by the user: Use a large recipe datasheet along with once again incorporating a user's preference rating but with stars(1 star meal, 2 star meal, 3 star meal. etc...)

James Lyles

Opportunities / How would it make money Could This Create a Business?

App that connects people via similar gaming interests/favoriting gaming: lead to a community-driven platform for gamers, potentially monetized through ads

James Lyles

App that could show possible cooking recipes using ingredients provided by the user: Could monetize through affiliate links to grocery stores or premium recipe features.

James Lyles

App that connects to Apple/Google Maps and shows possible shortcuts across traffic: premium subscription for advanced route selection

James Lyles

Something that shows up-to-date gas prices and which station is best based on the user's car/year/model: Partnerships with gas stations

James Lyles

Previous Attempts / What Has Been Tried Before?

App that connects people via similar gaming interests/favoriting gaming: Apps like Discord and Steam already exist, but there's room for innovation in gaming-specific matchmaking based on preferences.

James Lyles

App that connects to Apple/Google Maps and shows possible shortcuts across traffic: Google Maps offer real-time traffic data but might not focus on personalized route optimization

James Lyles

App that could show possible cooking recipes using ingredients provided by the user: Yummly or AllRecipes suggest meals based on ingredients, but there's potential for larger and more customizable meals based on whatever the user has in there kitchen

James Lyles

Something that shows up-to-date gas prices and which station is best based on the user's car/year/model: GasBuddy exist but could improve with better personalization and car-specific recommendations.

James Lyles

What are some names

App that connects people via similar gaming interests/favoriting gaming:

- GameMates
- PlayMatch
- GamerLink
- MatchPlay
- GameSquad
- GuildFinder

James Lyles

App that connects to Apple/Google Maps and shows possible shortcuts across traffic:

- QuickRoute
- TrafficHopper
- FastTrack
- ClearPath
- SwiftLane
- RouteGuru

James Lyles

App that could show possible cooking recipes using ingredients provided by the user:

- RecipeMatch
- InstaMeal
- PantryChef
- FridgeFix
- CookUp
- MealWizard

James Lyles

Something that shows up-to-date gas prices and which station is best based on the user's car/year/model: FuelFinder

- PumpSmart
- GasSaver
- FuelFit
- PricePump
- EcoFuelGuide

James Lyles

What are logo ideas

App that connects people via similar gaming interests/favoriting gaming: A headset with a small game icon (joystick or D-pad) within the earpiece

James Lyles

App that could show possible cooking recipes using ingredients provided by the user: A spoon with small icons of food ingredients floating around it (tomatoes, carrots, etc.

James Lyles

App that connects to Apple/Google Maps and shows possible shortcuts across traffic: Curved Road & Arrow
A smooth, curved road shape with an arrow pointing forward, representing quick and optimized routes. The arrow could weave through the curves to emphasize movement and speed.

James Lyles

Something that shows up-to-date gas prices and which station is best based on the user's car/year/model: A fuel pump icon with a dollar sign integrated into the nozzle or A gas gauge with a needle pointing toward full, and a small car below it

James Lyles